

Elica awarded by Deloitte among the "Best Managed Companies" in Italy

Fabriano, 30 May 2018 - Another important recognition for the world-leading multinational company in the kitchen hoods sector, which, for the “winning mix of strategies, competences, commitment to people and performance”, was awarded in the first Italian ranking of the Best Managed Companies by Deloitte.

Starting this year, Deloitte has in fact decided to also award, on the model of the equivalent international recognition, Italian companies that have distinguished themselves for their strategy, competences, commitment to people, organizational skills, and performance. The initiative is supported by Altis Università Cattolica, by ELITE - the London Stock Exchange Group program that supports the development and growth of high-potential companies - and by Confindustria.

In a constantly changing market, the company from Fabriano has been able to stand out in the Italian entrepreneurial scene for its great attention to growth and internationalization strategies, in the search for talent coming from all over the world, and for the extraordinary execution skills of the management, all elements at the base of the current results and the great future opportunities of the Group.

“We are honoured to be among the great Italian excellences to have won this award, which for the first time also touches our country”, commented Antonio Recinella, CEO of Elica Group while receiving the award, “Elica represents a true case of excellence, and this is thanks to the foresight of the majority shareholder and president of the company, Francesco Casoli, who has always been able to guide the evolution of the company with an attentive eye to internationalization, to the needs of the Italian market, but also to a careful selection of talents coming from all over the world.”

“We are a company that constantly looks at innovation and the world and it is for this reason that every day Elica welcomes foreign professionals who have our same DNA, those who love to participate, listen, and share a path of success and constant growth. The development that Elica experienced in recent years is also synonymous with the great attention to the processes as an element of company growth, and a competent management, capable of giving value to a mix of tradition and innovation that is fundamental for a company like Elica.”

The Elica Group has been present in the cooker hood market since the 1970's, is chaired by Francesco Casoli and led by Antonio Recinella and today is the world leader in terms of units sold. It is also a European leader in the design, manufacture and sale of motors for central heating boilers. With over 3,800 employees and an annual output of approx. 21 million units, the Elica Group has seven plants, including in Italy, Poland, Mexico, India and China. With many years' experience in the sector, Elica has combined meticulous care in design, judicious choice of material and cutting edge technology guaranteeing maximum efficiency and reducing consumption making the Elica Group the prominent market figure it is today. The Group has revolutionised the traditional image of the kitchen cooker hood: it is no longer seen as simple accessory but as a design object which improves the quality of life.
